

I. ACCOMPLISHMENTS:

1. Compiled and distributed annual reports in 1999 through 2003.
2. Held annual meetings at Albuquerque, New Mexico (2000), Kona, Hawaii (2001), Gillette, Wyoming (2002), Fairbanks, Alaska (2003), and Salt Lake City (2004).
3. Arranged and conducted field tours associated with each annual meeting.
4. Reviewed manuscripts, study plans and annual current research findings of committee members.
5. Organized, updated and maintained publication records (1990-present) from member institutions/organizations for inclusion on home page.
6. Established and maintained a web site (<http://www.fs.fed.us/rm/wcc21/>) and links to other pertinent web sites.
7. Committee members presented the WCC-21 poster at: 2001 Society for Range Management meetings in Kona, 2001 American Society of Surface Mine Reclamation in Albuquerque, 2001 Joint Section Meeting of the Society of American Foresters (Wyoming, Colorado, Arizona and New Mexico), 2001 Wildland Shrub Symposium, 2002 19th Annual Meeting of the Society for Mining and Reclamation, Lexington, 2003 Society for Range Management meetings in Casper, 2003 Joint conference of the 9th Billings Land Reclamation Symposium and the 20th Annual Meeting of the Society for Mining and Reclamation, Billings.
8. WCC-21 sponsored a special full-day symposium entitled, "Land Restoration success and sustainability" at the 54th Annual Meeting of the Society for Range Management in Kona, Hawaii.
9. WCC-21 sponsored a full-day special poster session on land restoration success and sustainability at the 54th Annual Meeting of the Society for Range Management in Kona, Hawaii.
10. WCC-21 members organized, made presentations and compiled proceedings for a four-day symposium on the Ecology and Management of Pinyon-Juniper Communities within the Interior West, Provo, Utah. Published as Proc. RMRS-P-9, Ogden, UT: USDA, Forest Service Rocky Mountain Research Station, 1999.
11. WCC-21 sponsored a special full-day symposium entitled, "Post-fire rehabilitation and restoration" at the 56th Annual Society for Range Management meetings in Casper, Wyoming, 2003.
12. WCC-21 committee member was appointed to a shared faculty position with USDA-CSREES in the national water program.
13. WCC-21 committee members was selected as fellows and outstanding achievement awardees in the Society for Range Management in 2004, Salt Lake City.
14. WCC-21 committee member organized a technical session at International Rangeland Congress on "Rehabilitation of Mined Rangelands" in Townsville, Australia in 1999.
15. WCC-21 committee members sponsored, organized, and contributed presentations and papers to a symposium entitled "Is range site the appropriate spatial unit for managing and measuring rangelands?" held on February 16, 2000 at the Society for Range Management Meetings in Boise, Idaho. The proceedings of this symposium were published in Rangelands. WCC-21 members contributed presentations to a symposium entitled "Sagebrush steppe communities: Origin, ecology, impacts and resources," "Soil ecology of rangelands: Relevance to management and research" and "Juniper woodlands of North America:

History, ecology, management and processes” all held on February 16 and 17, 2000 at the Society for Range Management Meetings in Boise, Idaho.

II. MINUTES AND REPORTS:

On-line at NIMSS (<http://www.lgu.umd.edu/form1002.cfm>) and the WCC-21 web page (<http://www.fs.fed.us/rm/wcc21/reports.html>).